

The Union Canceled Three Bargaining Sessions Scheduled for September

September 8, 2022

At the first bargaining session (August 3), Raven and the Union had agreed to bargain on September 8, September 13, and September 27. The Union canceled the September 8 and 13 sessions. The only reason they gave was “internal discussions.” The Union then decided to retain an attorney but he was not available on September 27. The parties resolved this and rescheduled negotiations for October 3.

By the time that the parties returned to the table on October 3, more than four months had passed since the Union was certified.
